When We Fall I Break

Fall break provides us with the time to catch up on the readings we are weeks behind on and recharge our social, physical, and academic batteries through relaxation. We are blessed to dine on home cooked meals that retain heat and possess seasoning, taking a break from the dining hall's stealth fries and brown sauce.

Many of us don't break up with a significant other when we should, for many different reasons. Some of us are afraid to be alone; others fall victim to the sunk cost fallacy ("I've already invested so much time and effort in this relationship, I can't give up now"). But most of us just ignore the signs that a relationship is falling apart because it's easier to believe that everything is okay ...
